A Real National Policy

The welcome announcement comes from Ottawa that on last long a real effort is to be made by the Federal Government and the Canadian National Railway in an endeavor to overcome the geographical obstacles which separate Western Canada from the central provinces, and the central provinces from the Maritimes, and in so doing assist in making Canada independent of the United States in so far as one article at least is concerned, namely, coal.

Ever since Confederation became an accomplished fact it has been the aim of all Governments to develop the country along east and west lines and make it, as far as possible, a self-contained, self-supporting national unit. Hundreds of millions of dollars have been expended in the effort in the construction of transcontinental railways, building of canals, development of harbors on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and in the maintenance of a so-called national fiscal policy.

Nevertheless, rich as the Dominion unquestionably is in natural resources of all kinds, and, in particular, with billions of tons of coal, the central provinces of Canada have remained dependent on the United States and more on importing fuel supplies to the extent of approximately one hundred millions of dollars annually, with the result that the importation of coal has constituted the chief item in our trade with the United States.

The difficulty has been, of course, that Canada's coal deposits are to be found in the extreme eastern and the extreme western Provinces while the bulk of Canada's consuming population and manufacturing industries are to be found in the central Provinces, and the cost of transportation of coal has been too great to enable it to be sold in Ontario and Quebec in competition with United States coal.

Thus Canadian dollars have paid the wages of thousands of miners in the United States, have provided tonnage and revenues to United States railways, and paid dividends to United States mine owners, while Canadian miners and railways have lacked employment and our natural resources, which should have been adding to the wealth of Canada, have remained undeveloped, and the people and industries of the central Provinces have lived in the precarious position of possibly having their fuel supplies shut off at any time that labor conditions forced a fuel shortage across the line.

In an effort to correct this situation the Government has announced a two-stage plan. First, arrangements have been made with the Canadian National Railway to transport 100,000 tons of Alberta coal during the spring and early summer months in Ontario at the low rate of $7.00 per ton, or only a little more than one-half the present rate. This movement will take place at the season when railway traffic is at low ebb. The experiment in haulage of these solid trains of coal will be closely watched, and from the experience gained it is hoped that, while no great profit is expected to result to the Canadian National Railway directly, there will not be any great operating loss, and that employment will be provided during an otherwise slack period.

To meet the Maritime problem the Government proposes to pay a bonus or royalty to concerns which will develop plants for the burning of Nova Scotia coal into coke to be sold in the central Provinces in competition with United States anthracite. This Nova Scotia coal can be brought by water transportation to Montreal and thence by transportation and, in addition to coke, several other by-products of commercial value can be obtained.

The success of this two-fold experiment in providing Canadian coal for Ontario and Quebec, and thereby bringing money at home, providing employment in the extreme east and west, and keeping our own transportation companies busy, rests very largely, if indeed not wholly, with the people and manufacturers of the two central Provinces. They are strong advocates of national policy in the matter of tariffs, export duties on raw materials, etc. It now remains to be seen whether they will prove equally strong supporters of a national coal policy, or whether they will continue doing as they have been doing, in the line of mere resistance, and go on buying United States coal which is, comparatively speaking, at their doors, while they have so long been accustomed to using, and for the use of which their plants have been designed.

For the sake of Canada it is to be hoped the central Provinces will take a big national view of this matter and join forces with the Government, the National Railways and the coal dealers in making this experiment a success. To be successful it must be persisted in, but if persisted in, Canada can undoubtedly become independent so far as its fuel supply is concerned.

Has Few Traffic Cases

Jerusalem Has No Motoring Fatalities and Fines Are Low

Well, anyway, there are some attractions about life in modern Jerusalem. There are few motor accidents and no traffic courts. Frederick Partridge, of the Jerusalem police department, telling the New York traffic court, was amazed when he was told that the court handled 40,000 cases and collected $200,000 in fines last year. Jerusalem, he said, had no motoring fatalities, and the traffic cases are so few that they are tried in the regular municipal court. The fine, too, should be an attraction. Jerusalem's fines run from 50 cents up.

Stamps For Canada

United States Issuing Series to Cover New Rate

While Uncle Sam is issuing stamps for fractional postage of 1/16 and 1/32 cents respectively, there is no intention of issuing such stamps in Canada, according to Postmaster W. L. Longwell of Toronto. "The United States has recently changed the rate of postage on all third-class material to 15 cents for each two ounces or fraction thereof, and two ounces, and this is the reason for the 15-cent stamp. Here the comparative postage is one cent, covered by the present cent stamp." Canada used to circulate a half-cent stamp, but it is now in demand only through collectors. "The nearest Canada comes to the fractional stamp at present," said Mr. Longwell, "is the 1/16 cent business reply postcard, but there is no stamp issued of 1/32 cent denomination."

The Entente Cordiale

Says Relations Between Britain and France Were Never Better

"Relations between France and England were never more cordial than they are today," said Hon. W. C. Riddell, lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, on his return to Canada recently from a visit to the former country.

"When I left," he said, "an earnest endeavor was being made on both sides to bring about a situation that would remove the shadow of war from Europe and promote general trade and export."

Referring to his own province, the lieutenant-governor said there was every indication of British Columbia being swamped with tourists this year from the old countries as well as from the United States, and he expected much settlement and land development this year, partly as a result of the tourist traffic of former years.

World's Largest Negro Colony

Located in New York City

Within a City

One square mile of the Harlem district of New York is housed the largest gathering of Negroes in the United States.

Harlem, a magazine owned and edited by Negroes, the first number of which has just been issued. Its announced purpose is to interpret Harlem as the capital of the Negro World.

James Weldon Johnson, who has attained prominence by his work in the promotion of Negro welfare, says:

"Harlem now stands for the Negro Metropolis. It is not merely a Negro colony of community. It is a city within a city, with new apartments and handsome dwellings, well paved and well lighted arteries. It has its own churches, social and civic parlors, shops and theatres."

Within this belt of seventy or eighty miles can be found colored people of British, French, Dutch, Spanish, Arabian, Danish, Portuguese and native ancestry."

"It will only count to be sworn on the symbols of my religion," declared Ruffin Dugues, former Communist deputy, when he appeared before the parliamentary committee at the French capital, which is investigating election campaign funds.

Chairman Maitland said he was afraid he could not identify the witness with the necessary symbols, but M. Dugues said he was prepared for that.

From a portfolio he drew forth a hammer and a sickle, the pointed end of the hammer by a cork, crossed them on the table and said, "I am, and declared in a loud voice:

"I swear on this emblem of the Union of the Workers of the City and of the Fields, to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

The members of the committee held their scribes in laughter.

Making the Town and Rural Home More Attractive With Flowers, Shrubbery and Trees

A bare unattractive home brings no credit to its occupant. If all homes were like these occasions would be in town and country places we would be compelled to hang our heads in the presence of visitors from other lands. Why should any home have a bit of ground present a stark unattractive appearance? Few countries can boast of as wide a range of hardy planting material, and where can help information and cooperative assistance more easily be obtained? Our horticultural forms and agricultural colleges exist to discover for the citizen reliable information on plants and cultural methods, and the horticultural societies stand ready at all times to help those who desire to improve their home surroundings.

One has but only to attack the problem of beautifying his place in doing assistance on every side, and when commenced the way opens for proceeding with the understanding. Wherever it be the planting of a hedge, a clump of shrubbery, a hardy border, or a few trees, some thought must be given beforehand, and this is the season for making the necessary plans.

Trees have their places in grounds that are rocky, but other things can prosper when trees monopolize the whole space. On the other hand, where trees are planted in a row, and there is space for both trees and smaller ornamentals, some carefully selected varieties should be chosen. Of these three types of trees are not commonly grown, that when used give distinction to the house, particularly when placed in a row. A few slightly "fancy" trees, a few plants that need to make provision for suitable kinds of trees and shrubs and herbaceous ornamentals as well as their location according to the site of the property and the style and position of the house. A simple, rather than a complex arrangement is to be preferred, not only because it is less expensive, but as a rule more pleasing.

It is not regarded as a mistake to break up the lawn with flower beds or even shrubs. These hard beds occupy positions skirting the walk or driveway, or a corner, or a small abrupt angle of the dwelling. What is known as foundation planting has become popular. It is the planting of shrubs and vines and such as are so placed as to appear to be dwelling to its surrounding grounds.

Plan To Overcome Depletion Of Forests

Toronto Dean Has Suggestion Which Would Protect Canada's Timber
The forests, which are said to exceed even the mining industry in the depletion of wealth, and are rivalled only by wheat as the Dominion's greatest asset, are being whittled off of existence by private greed and unscrupulous sale. Dr. C. D. Howe, dean of forestry, University of Toronto. To overcome this, he has suggested that the average annual growth per acre, in each district where timber rights are granted, be ascertained, and only the larger lot, not exceeding the annual growth of the timber as a whole per acre, be cut.

Dr. Howe declared that if this plan was made law and strictly enforced, it would mean the present forest wealth of Canada would be increased and the capital stock yield a tremendous annual dividend to the end of time.

British Favor Motorcycles
Great Britain has 1,242,000 motor vehicles, according to the latest figures announced by the ministry of transport, which states that during 1921 the gross receipts from motor taxation amounted to $7,000,000. This number includes 47,000 private cars, 441,000 motor cycles, 219,000 commercial motors and 81,000 taxicabs and omnibuses.

Canadians Gave South
During the seven months ended Jan. 31, 1922, 72,277 Canadians emigrated to the United States and declared their intention of residing there permanently according to figures issued by the United States department of labor in connection with operation of the quota law that became effective July 1, 1921.

Slaves Still Sold in Arabia
The slave trade still flourishes in Arabia where a state of war exists between the Hashemite family, the former rulers of Mecca, and Sultan Abdul Aziz, the Wahabi leader and conqueror of the Hashemite rule in the Arabian peninsula. One of the Sultan's first acts after attacking the Wahabis was to free many slaves.

British Settler's Testimony

How a Homesteader in Alberta Succeeded Without Capital

Among many letters sent to the Edmonton Bulletin by settlers from the British Isles who have made a success of farming in Western Canada, is the following from W. T. Macleach, of Chaffey, Alberta, who left England 20 years ago. He says in part:

"Having decided to come, I started out on a new boat for a new land. The province of Alberta had only just been created. Everything brand new. Landing at Strathcona, the end of April, 1902, without more capital than I really needed, 25 cents, and the attitude between myself and my family, my destined goal which was a home, seemed somewhat distant. I simply went straight to work and with my first ten spot purchased the rights to a new lot. It would be my very own. I shall never forget the feeling in walking over it, that with the addition of a little work, that I knew, it was going to be mine. It was my very own. I shall never forget the feeling in walking over it, that with the addition of a little work, that I knew, it was going to be mine. It was my very own."

Why, I thought, did I not come twenty years ago? I had six months before I needed to go, but I went back to work and by the time my family arrived the work spring on little about stood ready to receive them. Again it was necessary to go on to the west.

He continues with a narration of his experiences in stock buying and the consequent losses in the deflation period. "Having shown that Alberta is the finest country in the world to start from, I believe it is also the best to be broken in to the west. I shall fish this with the forthcoming crop with the value of the farm it is grown on (my little 100 homestead), will equal $10,000, which is hope to balance all my creditors."

Mr. Macleach ends his letter thus: "In conclusion, to all those who may be considering the west, I would say to come and dig in. We have stage and machinery going for twice the people we have. Naturally, conditions since I first came have been changed. If you have still the pioneering spirit, you will still be long forward to. And if it is just wages, come right along, but do not expect something for nothing."

Large Sums For Improvements

C.P.R. to Spend $5,500,000 in British Columbia
Approximately $5,500,000 will be expended this year in British Columbia by the Canadian Pacific Railway, according to an announcement made by Charles Murphy, of Winnipeg, general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, western division, after an inspection trip through the prairie provinces and British Columbia.

This expenditure will cover improvements for the year throughout the province, including the purchase and terminal facilities in Vancouver and general upkeep.

Want Veterans Land Revaluated
Saskatchewan Great War Veterans' Association in convention, at Saskatoon, passed resolutions calling on the Federal Government to pass legislation providing for the revaluation of land purchased by soldier settlers, such valuation to be made on an arbitration basis and to be based on the condition of the land at time of purchase, and on its value after improvements made by the soldier settlers.

To Make British Dry
A new movement to make Great Britain dry is reported by the London Daily Express. A secret conference of 117 delegates, representing 77 provincial and temperance organizations, a few days ago, decided to bury all differences and present a solid front to the oncoming British prohibition is not the first aim of the movement, but local origin.

For a Livestock Pool

Committee Will Investigate Feasibility Of Adopting Plan

The committee investigating the feasibility of a livestock pool for Saskatchewan has decided to appoint a special committee of three to conduct a preliminary inquiry among the livestock shippers as to the desirability of the plan. Each point will be visited by the committee.

The committee, consisting of George Landry, Regina; J. Wright, Lethbridge; and Edward Evans, Moose Jaw, W. J. Fisher, and G. B. Good, Pelly, were appointed last week in the event of any of the members of the committee being unable to serve.

At the suggestion of P. H. Auld, deputy minister of agriculture, it was agreed that the committee of inquiry should gather information regarding the grading as it affects the pool method of marketing.

If the preliminary inquiry in Saskatchewan warrants the committee proceeding further, the general committee will decide whether or not the committee should conduct further investigations in Manitoba, Alberta, Ontario and in the United States.

Surgery For Injured Animals

Dogs Have Been Provided With Artificial Legs and Eyes

The vogue for false teeth, artificial eyes and legs for pet dogs is described by Sir Frederick Hobday, British veterinary surgeon, in his book on "Surgical Diseases of the Dog and Cat on Hints."

The pet dog injured in canine or other struggles, can be as successfully operated upon and provided with artificial limbs as the human being, and in most cases, according to the author, they accommodate themselves to the new condition.

One valuable whippet which lost a couple of legs, refused to wear the artificial "pegs" provided, and hopped around like a kangaroo, but the other patients have got along comfortably with legs made of leather, silver and vulcanite.

No Speed Limit in Belgium

Under the new code of traffic rules Belgium, that went into effect last month, the speed limit for motor cars has been removed entirely. Motorists are required to avoid driving in any manner which may endanger the public. Pedestrians are required to get out of the way and permit motor cars to pass.

A series of conferences will be held in the province during the coming summer to reduce and, if possible, wipe out the annual loss caused to the farmers by noxious weeds. This loss is estimated for Saskatchewan alone at $25,000,000 a year. A similar figure has been assigned to Manitoba. What the annual loss from weeds in Alberta would probably place the annual loss from noxious weeds in the three prairie provinces at $69,000,000 at least, or $20,000,000 in each province—Regina Leader.

Status of Agriculture In The Dominion Is Now Decidedly On the Up-Grade

Carried Over Wealth

Large Proportion of Western Canada What Yet to Be Marked

A common third land itself with 50,000,000 bushels of wheat left in the granaries when spring comes, and with wheat selling for 11.75 cents per bushel at Winnipeg, is a country that is a long way from being as hard up as it might be. That carrying-over represents the balance of a crop so large that it could not be marketed last fall, nor probably cleared out by rail haul during the winter. And it represents a surplus of wheat and money to be used during the spring months as working capital for the coming season's operations—Edmonton Bulletin.

China Taking More Flour
Millions in Northern Provinces Not Great Rice Eaters
During the last two years China has come increasingly to the front as a second world power. The country's current popular belief that the Chinese are almost entirely a rice-eating community has been abandoned or, at least, considerably modified. Millions of Chinese, especially in the northern provinces, including Manchuria, eat wheat. Their people produce and consume wheat, millet, corn, beans and sweet potatoes as the main portion of their diet.

Even of the extreme southern districts, have taken in growing numbers to the consumption of wheat and such cereals. That is, they are constantly increasing.

Petrified Forest in Nevada

Trees Turned to Stone in Obscure Mountainous Region

That there is a petrified forest, one of the most beautiful in the country, within 40 miles of Tonopah, Nev., is a fact not generally known. More than 100 petrified trees are still standing, just as they grew originally. Little has been written about this forest on account of its obscurity.

The unique forest covers several hundred acres. The ground is strewn with fossilized bones of animals, and here and there are small caves. The entrance to the forest is through a small canyon which widens into a large valley in the distance, reminding somewhat of the Grand Canyon.

Menace of Weeds

Annual Loss to Western Provinces From Weeds Runs Into Millions

A series of conferences will be held in the province during the coming summer to reduce and, if possible, wipe out the annual loss caused to the farmers by noxious weeds. This loss is estimated for Saskatchewan alone at $25,000,000 a year. A similar figure has been assigned to Manitoba. What the annual loss from weeds in Alberta would probably place the annual loss from noxious weeds in the three prairie provinces at $69,000,000 at least, or $20,000,000 in each province—Regina Leader.

The Wife Was Right
Jones and his wife were talking about the remarkable discoveries in King Tutankhamen's tomb.

Some people are very literal. A broad-shouldered individual, obviously a country squarer, entered a well known hater's Precinct, London.

An immediate assistant approached him and said, "What is your pleasure, sir?"

Canadian agriculture experiences its elevations and depressions like any other industry, these fluctuations being possibly more violent and more difficult to anticipate and control. During the years of the Great War, Canadian agriculture experienced a period of unparalleled prosperity. But the aftermath it suffered a severe slump due to the depreciation of prices for farm products. Just now the status of Dominion agriculture is difficultly on the up-grade again.

According to the last government estimate of the value of field crops in Canada of the 1924 crop, and taking the number of farms as returned at the last census, an average total of $1.25 per acre to each farm in the Dominion from this source, or an average of $1.50 in the three prairie provinces. According to the government's estimate for the previous year, Canadian wheat accounted for only 66 per cent of the gross agricultural wealth, which would mean that the income of the average Canadian farmer in 1924, $22.25, or that of the prairie provinces farmer $23.50. This is a very fair showing in the consideration that the calculation includes farmers who are merely making a commencement as well as those definitely established, and that the farmer's methods of operation include many expenses incurred by other citizens of the country.

It is found that despite the various vicissitudes to which Canadian farming is subjected and the many fluctuations it undergoes, it, at any time, possesses distinct advantages over the same pursuit carried on elsewhere. As a new country, of low priced land, high soil fertility and excellent transportation facilities, farming is distinctly advantageous to the settler who has never farmed before and in the opportunity of acquiring a farm for the first time, but to the established farmer who has the opportunity of expansion limited.

Prefers Airplane to Horse

Mail Pilot Has Tried Four Landings From Both

Experiences of the "Barred Landings" in the Ruby Mountains of Nevada have convinced air mail pilot Tom Bates that the airplane is far more reliable than flying an airplane.

Under was flying a mail plane between Reno, Nev., and Salt Lake City recently when he broke a set of gears and was forced to land in the mountains. A rancher lent him a horse and he rode to the telephone for assistance. He got there all right, and then started back to his place.

"I mounted, or started to mount," wrote Bates, "and, as all true western horses do, this one took off in a bounding gallop when he broke a set of gears and was forced to land in the mountains. A rancher lent him a horse and he rode to the telephone for assistance. He got there all right, and then started back to his place."

He left ankle broke in two places and I was well shaken up by the forced landing."

Demand For Alberta Horses

Eastern Canadian buyers purchased several thousand horses from Alberta last year, and there are indications that the demand will continue for at least five years, according to reports made at the Alberta horse breeders' annual meeting at Edmonton.

Saskatchewan took forty carloads of work horses, and regular shipments are being made at present to points outside of Alberta.

Manitoba Liquor Problem

Heavy Expenses of Law Enforcement
Referred to in House

That the liquor law enforcement was costing the Manitoba government more under existing laws than under the Manitoba Temperance Act of prohibition days was the statement made by the attorney general, R. W. Croft, in the legislature in rebutting the opposition attacks on his proposal to deduct part of the costs of enforcement from the share of liquor profits allocated to the municipalities. The fact that two acts, the Liquor and Temperance Acts, now had to be administered, increased the difficulties which the province was called upon to face in dealing with the present liquor problem, he stated, as well as increasing the expenditure.

Supporting the Northern Route

A National Undertaking That Must Be

The Western Canadian attitude towards the Hudson Bay project ought to be one of steady, unflinching support. It is a policy that fits in with national undertaking which the Dominion Government must consider in connection with other national undertakings, giving it a place according to its history, the extent of the public interest which it behind it and its importance.

This is no scheme thought out yesterday for the purpose of inducing the spending of public money. A generation of Western Canadians have and the vision of a route to the markets of the world through the northern seas; and in the face of passive indifference and active hostility, the west succeeded, nearly 20 years ago, in convincing the Parliament of Canada that this was an enterprise which the Dominion could properly commit itself—Manitoba Free Press.

THE CRIPPLE AT THE BEAUTIFUL GATE

Golden Text: I am Jehovah that heal the sick. Exodus 15:26.
Lesson: Acts 14:1-18.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 35:3-10.

The Text Explained and Illumined
The Request of the Cripple, verses 1-4. In the days which we are studying there were no clocks like ours to measure time. Whether the Jews idea is realistic, or water clocks, or any other contrivance, we do not know. They divided the day between the morning and the afternoon, and of course the length of each part, or hour, varied, being long or short in summer than in winter.

Nine in the morning and three in the afternoon were the two hours fixed by law for sacrifice and prayers, Ex. 23:1. It was three o'clock in the afternoon, the ninth hour, as Peter and John were about to enter the temple entrance for prayer, that they came upon a cripple sitting on the street begging. Visitors to Palestine will have no difficulty in visualizing this poor and the diseased, as they are to be seen at the church door on a hot day. The blind and lame and the lame are sometimes literally carried on the shoulders of obliging friends to their accustomed places of worship. The cripple, however, was not, few pass him by without giving him alms. On Friday afternoons the steps leading down to the Jews' Water Gate at Jerusalem are so occupied by beggars of all sorts and conditions that one makes his way through them with difficulty.

This beggar whom Peter saw was lame from birth (Acts 14:3), and had been a cripple from birth. He came daily to the Beautiful Gate to beg, that gate of the temple which was called the Beautiful Gate because of the beauty of the temple. Peter and John, however, turned him passed into the temple area.

Murders in Berlin Increase

Movement to Restore Capital Punishment At German Capital

There have been no executions in Berlin since 1921, and it is now being alleged that the number of brutal murders has increased. The German capital because of the disposition of the courts to impose sentences of the imprisonment instead of death. Berlin has no gallows and the discussions in the papers as to the advisability of restoring capital punishment have brought more than 100 applications from men who want to serve as hangman.

Interest in Northern Air Route

Idea Revived On Account of Improvement in Airship Construction

Germany, the Scandinavian countries and Japan, all are showing interest in a proposal to operate an air route over the North Pole area from the coast of Russia to Alaska. The idea is not new, but it has been revived recently because of the improvements, of late years, in airship construction. It is understood that a Japanese airship has been ordered to lead such an enterprise under international control.

Invisible New War Weapon

Airplane Cannot Escape Bombing

The London Westminster Gazette reports that secret experiments are in progress with one of the strangest of new weapons ever devised. Experts believe it will be more potent in aerial warfare than torpedoes and submarines in naval fighting, the newspaper states. It consists of a bomb, which, when within a certain radius of an airplane, responds to the magnetic influence set up by the metal parts of the airplane, which influence gives the bomb immensely increased velocity toward the plane. So accurate of maneuvering by the pilot, according to the description of the newspaper, will enable him to destroy an airplane at the place of its launch, and, if found practicable, will eliminate the need of anti-aircraft guns.

WEDDING

Walker—Johnston

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday March 25 at four o'clock in the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnston, when their daughter Mary Irene, became the bride of Meredith Austin Walker of Alaskan Sisk. Rev. C. H. Crockeran officiating.

The bride was charmingly dressed in orchid satin crepe, and entered the room on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ella Johnston was daintily dressed in Milan pink satin. The groom was supported by Harold Dell.

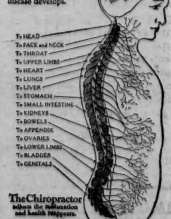

The guests numbering about thirty sat down to a sumptuous repast. The remainder of the evening being spent in a social manner.

The happy couple left amidst confetti and streamers for their future home in Alaska. The bride travelling in a very smart suit of Navy Tricotone.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.
